

THURLEY RUXTON

Thurley Ruxton

by Philip Verrill Mighels (1869-1911)

This is a rags-to-riches romance about an exceedingly beautiful, poor, young girl, Thurley Ruxton, who is mentored by one of New York's elite hostesses. In order to draw them into her social circle, she allows all the famous and moneyed populous of Gotham to believe that Thurley is the princess Thurvinia hiding in New York to escape an arranged marriage. This causes all manner of high drama and romance with a suitable ending.

Total running time: 12:25:05

Read by Paul Hansen

PHILIP VERRILL MIGHELS

Cover design by Kathryn Delaney
Portrait of Elsie Palmer by John Singer
Sargent, 1889

PHILIP VERRILL MIGHELS

THURLEY RUXTON